Three Pillars for Strengthening Global Integrity: Cooperation, Adaptation and Measurement

IAACA Annual Conference

NATIONAL TRANSPARENCY AUTHORITY

International Cooperation as a Strategic Foundation

Strategic Partnerships

Cooperation-Driven Results

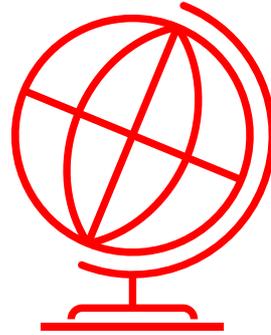

- ✓ Capacity-building exchanges & joint initiatives inspired by the Hong Kong Declaration
- ✓ Risk-management tools for public procurement
- ✓ Conflict-of-interest guidance
- ✓ Targeted Awareness Initiatives in High-Risk Areas
- ✓ Contributions to UNCAC processes
- ✓ National Whistleblowing Platform: informed by exchanges with Italy and Romania

Adapting and Expanding Through International Engagement

Expanding Partnerships

- ❑ Engaging new regional partners
- ❑ Building cooperation aligned with evolving international priorities

Cross-Border Engagement

- ❑ Joining multi-country initiatives
- ❑ Participating in networks shaped by emerging global dynamics

Diversified Financing

- ❑ Supporting digital platforms
- ❑ Investing in analytical systems
- ❑ Strengthening preventive policy frameworks

Advancing Data-Driven Measurement of Corruption

Limitations of Perception Indices

- Fragmented evaluation landscape
- Authorities need measurable, operational indicators
- Perception Indexes and similar tools rely heavily on subjective opinions

What Data-Driven Tools Provide

- ❑ Measure capacity, resilience, and institutional performance
- ❑ Assess transparency, accountability, risk management, enforcement
- ❑ Ground evaluation in real implementation results
- ❑ NTA participates to the development of the Public Integrity Indicators

Addressing the Challenge of Expanding International Evaluations

Overlapping Evaluations

NTA Advocates for:

- Streamlined reporting obligations
- Harmonized indicators
- Reduced duplication across platforms
- Evaluations with real added value, not administrative overload
